

DUBLIN SUSPENDS BUSINESS DURING EXECUTIONS PACKERS' EMPLOYEES WORK PENDING MEDIATION

Crowd Of 20,000 People Assembles In Front of Jail

DUBLIN, March 14.—Six prisoners convicted of complicity with the killing of British intelligence officers and members of the crown forces in Ireland, were executed in Mount Joy prison, in this city, this morning. The men were hanged in pairs at intervals of an hour.

Twenty thousand people gathered outside the prison during the hours that the executions were going on and all work in the city stopped until eleven o'clock. Even the post office was closed and telegraph service was suspended.

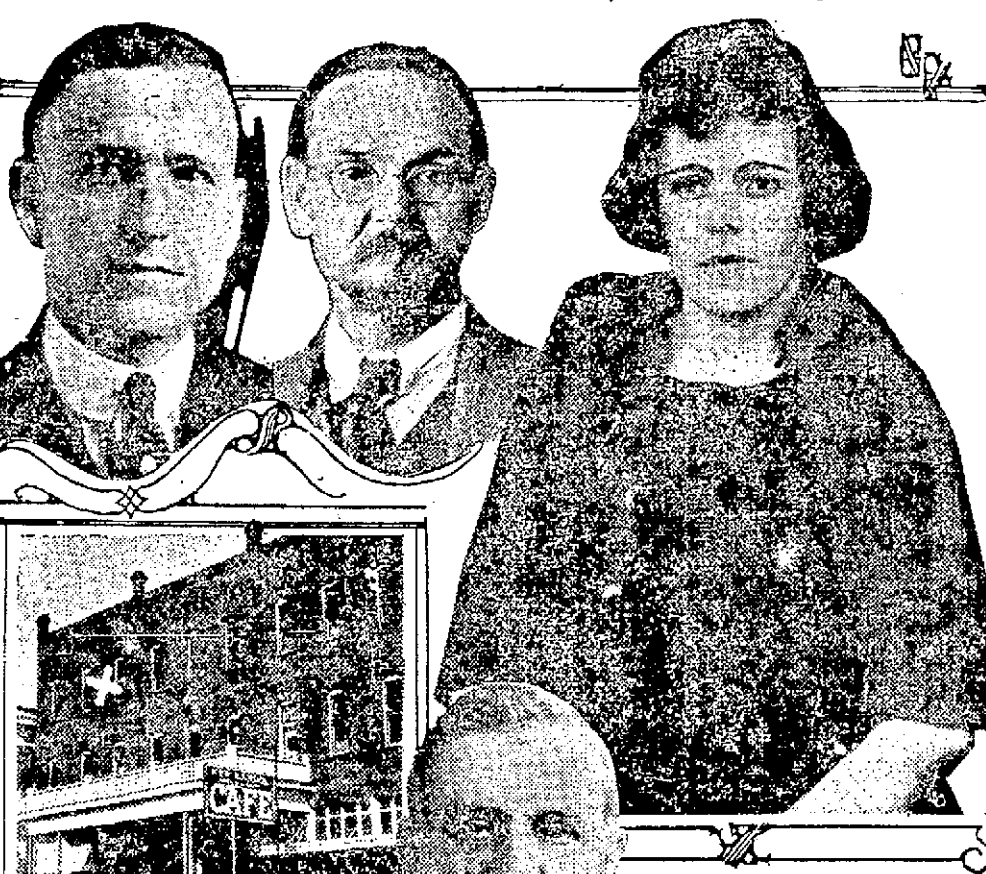

The scene in front of the prison was impressive. The crowd began assembling at dawn and by 6 o'clock the prison yard was packed. An hour later the crowd had filled the roadways leading to the prison and all the plantings streets. An altar had been improvised near the prison doors and on the walls and trees in the prison yard sacred images and pictures had been placed.

Everywhere candles were burned, some of persons in the heart of the dense throng holding them aloft throughout the long vigil. Here and there priests or women led in prayers or hymns in which every one joined earnestly. Hundreds kneeling in the roadway were forced to rise when an armored car forced its way through the crowds. From 5 o'clock this morning it moved back and forth in front of the prison. On the roof of the jail, overlooking the entrance, a cast iron sentry box had been erected over night from which a soldier kept careful watch on the crowd.

Two of the men executed, Patrick Moran and Thomas Whelan, were charged with complicity of the killing of intelligence officers in Dublin on November 21, last. Whelan's two brothers are in the United States, one of them in the American army.

The other four men to die, Frank Flood, Bernard Ryan, Thomas Ryan and Patrick Doyle, were accused of participating in an ambush near here in January, in which one member of the attacking party was killed.

Witnesses At Hamon Trial; Shooting Scene

Witnesses.

Clara Smith Hamon, thirty-two, is now on trial in Ardmore, Okla., for the shooting to death of Jake Hamon, millionaire oil man, and Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, at Ardmore, last November. She had lived with Hamon for several years, and had helped him rise from a poor man to wealth. She admits pointing a revolver at Hamon, but says she did so to halt him when he attacked her with a club, the blow on her hand from the chair exploding the weapon. The state is seeking to prove she deliberately killed Hamon while he lay on his bed. Hamon had planned to return to his wife and two children.

The above photographs show some of the witnesses in the Clara Smith Hamon murder trial, and the scene of the shooting, as follows: Left to right: Dr. A. G. Cowles, physician at Hardy sanitarium, Ardmore, Okla., where Hamon died; Dr. W. G. Hardy, owner of the sanitarium, and Clara Smith Hamon, on trial for the death of Hamon. Below, view of Rauloff Hotel, where the shooting occurred. The rooms in which Hamon and the girl lived and in which the shooting occurred, are indicated by a cross between the windows. In center is Max Westheimer, wealthy Ardmore oil man, friend of Hamon and Clara. Cowles, Hardy and Westheimer are three of the important witnesses.

Harding Has Made Pleasing Impression With Capital Callers

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Harding's first week in the White House has been a struggle against the limitations of a twenty-four-hour day and the irrepressible energy of an army of office seekers.

Mr. Harding has made a pleasing impression upon everybody who has called upon him—an impression of earnestness and conscientious application to duty. The cabinet officers have interfered to some extent with the orderly processes of the White House by breaking in on regular engagement hours to seek the advice and guidance of the Chief Executive. This will not continue, however, as the ten heads of departments gradually will become accustomed to their surroundings and soon will go ahead on their own responsibility.

Indeed, the cabinet Secretaries have been reticent to express themselves not so much because of the timidity as unfamiliarity with the business they found on hand when they took office. There has been, of course, the usual amount of stage fright as hundreds of newspaper reporters have bombarded new officials with a thousand and one questions, the great majority of which could not be answered as yet even if the cabinet Secretaries had wished to unshelve themselves.

No more amusing incident of the caution which the new officials sometimes affect could be mentioned, perhaps, than when a correspondent representing a Boston newspaper caught Vice President Coolidge off his guard and asked him a question so simple that Mr. Coolidge imagined that it was "loaded."

The Vice President was leaving the cabinet meeting to which he had been invited by Mr. Harding. Vice Presidents do not attend cabinet meetings, and the novelty of the occasion stirred the curiosity of the Boston reporter, who stepped up to Mr. Coolidge and inquired as follows:

"Mr. Vice President, would you mind telling me just where you sat at the cabinet meeting?"

ANTI-JEWISH DISORDERS BREAK OUT IN VIENNA

VIENNA, March 14.—Anti-Jewish disorders which broke out here last evening threatened for a time to develop into a serious situation, but the police, late in the evening, succeeded in scattering crowds on the streets and in preventing possible loss of life and property. The disorders were caused by Jews who were damaged by stones thrown by riotous crowds, and in a few cases Jews were beaten.

The disorder began at the congress of the Austrian Anti-Semite Association which has been in session here for several days. During the sitting last yesterday afternoon the congress, which is being attended by delegates from 62 chapters of the organization in Austria, and a few representatives of Bavarian and Hungarian anti-Jewish societies, was addressed by speakers who urged radical measures. They advocated pogroms and the organization of Christians in Austria.

The decision to summon the men, was made in executive session after Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the four brotherhoods, had refused to go on with rebuttal testimony unless the witnesses were called.

Seven officials of the railway organizations, including Mr. Jewell, last night wired United States Senator Cummings, Republican, Iowa, chairman of the senate Interstate commerce committee, endorsing the senator's proposal for a congressional investigation of the transportation situation and requesting that railroad labor organizations be given a hearing in the event of such inquiry. The message charged that nine men control and have dictated the policy of all the railroads of the country in the wage question.

"Railroad labor stands for industrial peace and evolution and not industrial warfare and revolution," the message concluded.

"Hamon Shot While Resting On His Bed"

ARDMORE, OKLA., March 14.—Clara Smith Hamon, on trial, charged with the murder of Jake L. Hamon, shot the former Oklahoma Republican national committeeman while he was lying on the bed in his room, Errol Dunlap today testified Hamon told him two days after the shooting. Dunlap was a former business associate of Hamon.

"He told me he went over to his room late in the evening, threw off his coat and vest and lay down on the bed for a rest," Dunlap testified.

Dunlap quoted Hamon as having said: "I had been there only a short time when I heard Clara come in. She laid her left hand on my head and I felt her right on my shoulder, when she shot me."

"Of course, I have been looking for this," Dunlap quoted Hamon as having said.

The reply was objected to and sustained.

"He said he did not have a chance to protect himself; that she walked in to the foot of the bed and shot him," Dunlap further quoted Hamon. Mr. Dunlap was asked if he had made any report to the county attorney or sheriff and said he had not.

He admitted he had had two or three conferences with the prosecution, but denied he had stated he had "taken charge of the prosecution."

Dunlap said he was not present when Clara Hamon was furnished $5,000 with which to leave town.

Mr. Dunlap said he had not asked the county attorney to dismiss the case, stating there was "nothing to it." He said he had asked that a statutory charge filed at the same time against Hamon and Clara, be dismissed.

REFUSE TO POSTPONE HEARINGS OF PLAYERS

CHICAGO, March 14.—Judge William E. Dever today refused to comply with a motion by the state that the trial of Chicago White Sox players and others indicted for the alleged throwing of the 1919 world's series be taken off the court call. He offered another hearing for next Thursday when it is believed a date for trial will be set.

Attorneys for the defense moved that an immediate trial be held Thursday and Judge Dever said that he would announce his decision later. Claude Williams, Buck Weaver, Oscar Felsch and Swede Risberg, were in court. Eddie Cicotte, Bill Burns, Joseph J. Sullivan, Rubeen Brown, Chick Gandil and Abe Attel were represented by counsel. Hal Chase was the only defendant not present or represented by counsel.

Judge Barrett, American League attorney, in pleading for a postponement, said the prosecution had learned that "Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams and Joe Jackson, who confessed to the grand jury, would not be available as witnesses." Consequently, he said, the state could not obtain convictions on the evidence it now had and would have to have more time to seek additional data.

INDUSTRIAL DEMOCRACY IS PROPOSED BY ARMOUR

CHICAGO, March 14.—Armour & Company today called an election in all of its plants for tomorrow for the employees to choose representatives to form an industrial democracy in which workers and employers would have equal representation and which would settle all questions of working conditions, wages and hours in the Armour plants.

The representatives elected tomorrow will form a temporary board which will work out permanent plans. The announcement of the packing company said that it was planned eventually to have a plant conference board of five members in each plant and a general conference board of three members, selected from all plants.

The outline of the proposed plan as given out by Armour & Company said that when the representatives of employer and employee could not agree on any matter, the question could be referred to an arbitrator.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 14.—Secretary Davis had received today replies from the five leading packers and their employees agreeing to his plan for a conference here between two representatives from each in an effort to reach an agreement on the question of wages and other differences.

Mr. Davis has not yet set a date for the conference, but he is understood to be considering Friday of this week, suggested by the employees who will by then have checked up the results of their strike referendum.

Red Leaders Appear To Be Overcoming Revolution

COPENHAGEN, March 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Advisers from Helsingfors today state that the fortress of Kronvaara Gorka has been recaptured from the Russian revolutionaries by soviet troops and the garrison now consists chiefly of a cadet corps.

Leon Trozky, the soviet war minister, has ordered his henchmen to Oranienbaum, on the Gulf of Finland, opposite Kronstadt, after executing M. Kolesov, chief of the flying station, and forty-four other rebels, the advisers say.

The Moscow uprising is reported to have been quelled after the severest street fighting. Conditions in Kronstadt are said to be serious, owing to lack of food, none having been received from the American Red Cross or the British relief depot. Because of the large civilian population which includes 700 children, the garrison's rations are extremely scanty.

The extremes in local temperature today were: High, 57; low, 39.

Goodyear Meeting Again Postponed

AERON, O., March 14.—The adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, scheduled for Tuesday morning to ratify the company's refinancing plan, will be again adjourned for a short period, according to an announcement today by Vice President George M. Stadelman.

Delay in consummation of the negotiations has been occasioned by refusal of all merchandise creditors to give unanimous assent to the plan of readjustment.

Plan For Evangelistic Campaign

At a special meeting of the Ministerial Association called this morning at ten o'clock at the U. B. church, details were completed for the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign in which all churches in the Federation unite for the two weeks preceding Easter Sunday.

During Holy Week, as last year, noon meetings will be held each day for a half hour, from 12 to 12:30 p. m. These will be held at the Central Presbyterian church, and a cordial invitation is given to business men and clerks, especially, who are usually down town during the noon hour, to take advantage of these meetings, which are especially for them. A rousing song service will be followed by a fifteen minute sermon appropriate to the events which have to do with the Passion of the Lord.

A different minister of the city will speak each noon, and the meeting will be presided over by another. Each day a different minister will speak, and another preside. The assignments are as follows beginning next Monday noon, March 21:
Monday—Speaker—Rev. E. H. Dailley, of U. B. church; Rev. Dr. C. E. Chandler, of Bigelow M. E. presiding.
Tuesday—Speaker—Rev. Charles E. Severinghaus, of Franklin Avenue M. E.; Rev. Charles Oakley, of First Christian, presiding.

Letters From Our Readers

Editor Times—
Again this evening and for the second time within the week, the columns of the Times carried a misrepresentation of Bible Students and their attitude toward the Scriptures. These were contained in the writings of or quotations from the clergy and manifest either ignorance or a willful disregard for truth. In both instances the effect has been to subtly convey the impression that Bible Students are following the teaching of a man rather than the teachings of God's Word, and that they do not accept ALL the Holy Scriptures.
In the process of preparation for the ministry, the writer spent many years reading and studying writings of Calvin, Macmillan, West, Hitchcock, Pope, Herne, Wesley, Shedd, Eiler, Rush, Bloomfield, Calnet, Burder, Foster, Poole, Patrick, Adam Clarke, Gill, Scott, Doddridge and others and received much assistance from these, but I learned more about the Bible in a six months study of Pastor Russell's SCRIPTURE STUDIES than from all the previous years of study. The STUDIES contain 772 scripture references and 474 quotations and are a harmonized and annotated Bible from beginning to end. No other writings have ever attempted or claimed to do this. Is it conceivable that any man would misrepresent the Bible and its teachings when referring to it nearly eight thousand times? Could it truthfully be said that he was building up a theory upon a few texts of Scripture?
With much interest I have been reading the articles by a local clergyman which have been appearing in the Saturday Times. In the main they have been very good from a historical standpoint. It is quite noticeable, however, that they have been valuable only in what they said about the Bible and utterly barren in what they present about what the Bible teaches. It is concerning what the Bible teaches that Christians are deeply interested. The general contention, contained in Saturday's article, is exactly the same, has appeared in phraseology that has appeared upon the pages of SCRIPTURE STUDIES for more than thirty years, and which has been printed in more than twenty-five languages. But when the article suggests that what it terms "Russellism" takes just parts of the Bible and interprets these "parts" in a manner to do violence to the context, then the article is unfair and unchristian.
I have read Gray, Biedervolf, Hinderman and other attacks on "Russellism," but I yet have the first fair, truthful and honest criticism to read or hear. In every case the teachings and practices of Bible Students have been misrepresented, and then the critic proceeds to demolish his own misrepresentation. I do not believe that God is on the side of those who misrepresent. It has been my privilege to attend many Bible Students meetings. Always they study the Bible. They are most critical students. You will find them using such commendances and lectures as Strong or Young, Smith's Bible Dictionary and from two to six or more translations of the Scriptures. They speak of and refer to these in a manner denoting familiarity. Why, Mr. Editor, does a certain class of men persistently misrepresent and attack these earnest Christians?
Yours for Light and Truth

OBITUARY

Miss Annie Conroy
An illness extending over a period of two years was ended Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, when the final summons came to Miss Annie Conroy at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Denny, 717 Sixth street. Death was caused by uraemic poisoning. Although ill for about two years, Miss Conroy had been bedfast only six weeks. Friday her condition took a decided change for the worse and she remained in a state of coma until her death ensued.

Miss Conroy was 59 years of age. She was born in this city, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Conroy. Miss Conroy was a home loving woman and will be greatly missed by her many friends.

Surviving are four brothers, Dan W. Conroy of Fourth street, Thomas Conroy of Sixth street, Edward Conroy of Detroit, Robert Conroy of Columbus, and a sister, Mrs. J. W. Denny of Sixth street.

Funeral services will be held from the Holy Redeemer church Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock, with Father J. E. McNeill in charge. Burial will be in Greenhills.

Mrs. Fay Palmer

Death this morning claimed Mrs. Fay Palmer, wife of Alfred Palmer, well known N. & W. agent at Peabody. She had been ill for many weeks with heart trouble, which followed an attack of pneumonia. She was about 72 years old and in addition to her husband leave three sons, William, Guy and Clyde. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer resided here until ten years ago when they moved to Peabody. Mr. Palmer was formerly employed as a train dispatcher in the N. & W. offices in East Portsmouth.

Infant Dies

An infant daughter born Saturday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Scouting of 3103 Walnut street, East Portsmouth, only lived a few hours.

IS HELD ON INCEST CHARGE

An investigation following complaints made by his 10-year-old daughter, Ruby May, resulted in the arrest of Elijah Artip, aged 30 years, Sunday night, at his home at Lakeside, New Boston, by Sheriff Riekey on the serious charge of incest.

The child has been living with her father at Lakeside since he became separated from his wife several months ago and the alleged mis-treatment of the little girl by her parents is claimed.

Artip, who strenuously denies the charge, was lodged in the county jail, where he is held pending his preliminary hearing before Squire William McManes.

Admit They Played Poker; Are Fined

When Jesse Jackson, John Nichols, John Jewett and Joseph Pertusset, John township men, voluntarily appeared in probate court Monday and admitted participating in that great card pastime known as "poker" for a stake of $2, Judge Gilliland ordered them to pay a fine of $1 and costs each after exacting a promise from the quartet to refrain from indulging in such gambling practice in the future.

The alleged offense was committed one rainy Sunday recently when the defendants admitted they gathered at an abandoned house in the vicinity and spent the day twirling the pasteboards.

KENNEDY SURRENDERS TO POLICE

Frank "Buck" Kennedy, aged 32 years, Ninth and Court streets, who the police searched for during the past two days on a charge of violating the prohibition law, surrendered Monday when he walked into police headquarters and was locked up at the city jail.

Kennedy will be required to meet a charge of unlawfully manufacturing liquor and possessing a still, the complaints growing out of the arrest of Charles Flanagan last Friday, who testified that the still found in his possession was owned by Kennedy. He will be given a hearing Tuesday before Judge Johnson in Municipal court.

PLEA FOR DAYLIGHT SAVINGS

Sporting Editor Times: Portsmouth Times, City.
Dear Sir:—
As Secretary of the Portsmouth Industrial Athletic Association, I feel privileged to request of you a small space in your valued paper in order that I may set forth a few reasons why Portsmouth should have Daylight Savings.

During the past two years Portsmouth has enjoyed successful baseball seasons and even those who are apparently opposed to daylight saving are agreed that this has been one of the most healthful recreations that has ever been had in Portsmouth.

There are few people who realize what a big proposition it is to put over this League in a successful way. Last year there was something like $2500.00 expended for preparing the grounds, building the grandstand, etc. The expenses of the League run close to $18.00 per day and are taken care of by daily collections in the grandstand.

For the information of the public I will say that the League was very successful financially last year having ended the season with a balance of $30.00 in the treasury. The officials figure that the coming season will be very inexpensive as we already have our grandstand paid for and our equipment on hand, with the exception of a new backstop and preparing the grounds.

Last year these games were enjoyed each evening by not less than 2000 to 3000 people which shows absolutely that same must have met with the approval of the people of Portsmouth. I am sure that the sport-loving people of Portsmouth are very desirous of having our Baseball League and in my talk with a great number of people not only in the Excelsior Shoe Company but also in other industries I find that they are for daylight savings unanimously if same is adopted universally in the City.

I have before me an article appearing in the American Shoemaking which gives a few statistics which I feel will be of interest to the working man. There has been a movement on foot in New York to repeal the Daylight Savings law and in order to demonstrate the overwhelming sentiment in the cities in favor of Daylight Savings the employers took polls of their employees on this subject. It is interesting to note that out of 241,198 votes cast 230,507 were in favor of daylight savings, and 10,691 opposed to save. These results are in harmony with those obtained from similar polls in other centers of population.

The Daylight Saving increases efficiency because the extra hour of daylight available for healthful outdoor recreation tends to improve the health of the workmen. It is well known that in many industrial plants factory and office employees are required to work in crowded quarters often inadequately ventilated and poorly lighted.

The fact that more working hours come during the cooler part of the day also makes for more efficient work and increases production. It reduces accidents. It has been determined as a result of accurate study that the majority of industrial accidents occur during the closing hours of day when artificial light is required. Adding the extra hour of daylight will tend to reduce such accidents.

Daylight Savings reduces Electric Light and Gas bills and permits the utilization of your gardens, etc.

At a meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last Friday afternoon various plans were suggested regarding the best method to adopt in order to assure the public of having baseball. In the opinion of the writer there is only one sure way to insure the sport-loving public of having baseball this season. That is to have Daylight Savings. In order to make this successful we must all pull together and have Daylight Savings adopted universally throughout the city.

The greatest trouble experienced last year arose from the fact that the schools, churches, etc., were operating under the old time, while the factories, etc., operated on the new time necessitating the preparing of two or more meals by a great many housewives in the city.

There is no good reason why Portsmouth cannot adopt Daylight Savings as other cities and in close proximity to us have adopted same, for the coming season and these cities much larger than Portsmouth. There has never been a year when outdoor recreation was needed so much as it is this year due to so many unemployed people, etc. There is no question but if you keep a persons mind occupied with healthful outdoor recreation there is a tendency to reduce all kinds of petty crimes.

We claim that "we are working for the benefit of the Industrial workers when we fight for Daylight Savings as these people are kept out of doors during the Baseball season but otherwise they would necessarily have to be within doors in order to secure any kind of recreation whatever. We must remember that there are very few facilities for outdoor exercise in Portsmouth and the way the baseball games were attended last year shows that the baseball lovers of Portsmouth surely appreciated the baseball league.

The Industrial plants of Portsmouth want to put this League across this year and we call on all lovers of outdoor sport to aid us in any way possible. The time is very short for us to make preparations for the opening of the League the first part of May. It is therefore, very essential that all lovers of outdoor sport get together and put this "daylight savings" across.

Assuring you of my personal appreciation for the courtesy of publishing this article and trusting that you will give this matter all the publicity possible.

Yours very truly,
JNO. G. UNDERWOOD,
Secretary.

At a meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last Friday afternoon various plans were suggested regarding the best method to adopt in order to assure the public of having baseball. In the opinion of the writer there is only one sure way to insure the sport-loving public of having baseball this season. That is to have Daylight Savings. In order to make this successful we must all pull together and have Daylight Savings adopted universally throughout the city.

The greatest trouble experienced last year arose from the fact that the schools, churches, etc., were operating under the old time, while the factories, etc., operated on the new time necessitating the preparing of two or more meals by a great many housewives in the city.

There is no good reason why Portsmouth cannot adopt Daylight Savings as other cities and in close proximity to us have adopted same, for the coming season and these cities much larger than Portsmouth. There has never been a year when outdoor recreation was needed so much as it is this year due to so many unemployed people, etc. There is no question but if you keep a persons mind occupied with healthful outdoor recreation there is a tendency to reduce all kinds of petty crimes.

We claim that "we are working for the benefit of the Industrial workers when we fight for Daylight Savings as these people are kept out of doors during the Baseball season but otherwise they would necessarily have to be within doors in order to secure any kind of recreation whatever. We must remember that there are very few facilities for outdoor exercise in Portsmouth and the way the baseball games were attended last year shows that the baseball lovers of Portsmouth surely appreciated the baseball league.

The Industrial plants of Portsmouth want to put this League across this year and we call on all lovers of outdoor sport to aid us in any way possible. The time is very short for us to make preparations for the opening of the League the first part of May. It is therefore, very essential that all lovers of outdoor sport get together and put this "daylight savings" across.

I have before me an article appearing in the American Shoemaking which gives a few statistics which I feel will be of interest to the working man. There has been a movement on foot in New York to repeal the Daylight Savings law and in order to demonstrate the overwhelming sentiment in the cities in favor of Daylight Savings the employers took polls of their employees on this subject. It is interesting to note that out of 241,198 votes cast 230,507 were in favor of daylight savings, and 10,691 opposed to save. These results are in harmony with those obtained from similar polls in other centers of population.

The Daylight Saving increases efficiency because the extra hour of daylight available for healthful outdoor recreation tends to improve the health of the workmen. It is well known that in many industrial plants factory and office employees are required to work in crowded quarters often inadequately ventilated and poorly lighted.

The fact that more working hours come during the cooler part of the day also makes for more efficient work and increases production. It reduces accidents. It has been determined as a result of accurate study that the majority of industrial accidents occur during the closing hours of day when artificial light is required. Adding the extra hour of daylight will tend to reduce such accidents.

Daylight Savings reduces Electric Light and Gas bills and permits the utilization of your gardens, etc.

SPECIAL RELIGIOUS SERVICES

Demarests Draw Great Throngs

A subject which will be of great interest to many people of Portsmouth will be dealt with by Mrs. Demarest at the First Presbyterian church to-night: "The Personality, Office and Work of the Holy Spirit." A cordial invitation is extended to all those who are interested in the theme, and to all others who desire, in one way or another, a closer walk with God, to attend. Those who have already heard Mrs. Demarest need only the announcement of the hour to create the desire to hear her. If one may judge from the crowds of last week and the disappointed people of yesterday, it would be the part of wisdom to plan to come early for the services this week.

At seven o'clock tonight Mr. Agnew Demarest will give another of his organ recitals to precede the regular service. These have proved to be most popular, and it provides a real reward for those who come early.

Every available inch of space in First church was taken last evening by the time Mr. Agnew Demarest began his organ recital at seven o'clock. When the matronly woman came, list, Victoria Booth-Cutborn Demarest, rose to speak. Her simple, direct way of presenting the gospel message, totally without affectation or spectacular means, has made itself felt in the city in a way that is producing definite results. She has a peculiar ability of appealing both to the heart and the intelligence, evidently feeling that the gospel of the One of Whom it was said that "the common people heard him gladly," and yet who also drew the profound admiration of such as Nicodemus, should be addressed to every part of life: "Body, soul, mind, strength."

There are numbers already who are proudly boasting that they have not missed a single service, and it is safe to say that there will be many others who will make that vow for the remaining days of the campaign, when once they hear her.

Mrs. Demarest will speak every night this week, save Saturday. The meetings are always at seven-fifteen. Certain nights Mr. Agnew Demarest will precede the service with a fifteen minute organ recital.

The large chorus choir acquitted itself most notably last evening, and as a special number, Mr. Demarest sang "A Lullaby," the music of which was written by Mrs. Demarest.

Mrs. Demarest took for her subject last evening "The Power of a Name," taking her text from Matthew 12:1: "Thou shalt call His name Jesus; for He shall save His people from their sins."

In part she said: "The greatest compliment that could be paid to Joseph was that he was engaged to be married to Mary. Knowing the backbiting and cruel remarks about to be made, God sent an angel to reassure him. The message of the angel did more than reassure; it contained the substance of the whole Gospel—to save His people from their sins."

There is much in a name. Julius Caesar, Charlemagne, Napoleon are great names. They make you see great battles, anguish, death, horror. You speak of Van Dyke, Corth, Millet, and you see great paintings on rich canvases. Chopin, Beethoven, Mozart bring to your mind wonderful music. Newton, Franklin, Edison suggest scientific discoveries. But Jesus means salvation and salvation means Jesus; they are inseparable. There is no other name under heaven given among men by which you must be saved.

Who shall save? He! A Person. The church cannot save you though it points you to Him for the church is an "it." The Bible cannot save you

OUT O' ORDER STOMACHS

Indigestion, Acidity, Sourness and Gases ended with "Pape's Diapiesin"

The moment you eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapiesin all the lumps of indigestion, the sourness, heartburn and heaving of gases, due to acidity, vanish—truly wonderful!

Millions of people know that it is needless to be bothered with indigestion, dyspepsia, or a disordered stomach. A few tablets of Pape's Diapiesin neutralize acidity and give relief at once—no waiting! Day a box of Pape's Diapiesin now! Don't stay dyspeptic! Try to regulate your stomach so you can eat favorite foods without causing distress. The cost is so little. The benefits so great.

from your sins, the Bible is an "it." It takes a "He" to save. Religion cannot save you. The Devil is religious, although you may not know it, for he believes in the deity of Jesus, but he cries: "Let us alone!" Religion, too, is an "it," and it is powerless to save. Remember, Religion is Not Christianity.

There have been other teachers, instructors: Confucius, Buddha, Mohammed, but He was the only one who claimed to be able to save. He was all that they claimed to be, but He was first of all a Savior. Man can only be saved through the heart; God who made the heart is the only one who can save it.

The next word is "Shall." How I love that positive word! Positive things are needed in an age of Doubt. "Oh Christ, the Solid Rock, I stand, All other ground is sinking sand."

Saved: a mighty word. It means whole, completeness, entire, restoration, deliverance. Saved from waste, loss, ruin, wreckage; saved from sin!

Mrs. Demarest here told a thrilling story of the rescue of a drowning man from the sea by her father at the great risk of his life. The audience was thrilled as she told how her own mother urged him to go when she heard the cries of the wife of the man who was sinking; of the dandified young Frenchman who said contemptuously, "He is a fool! They'll both be drowned!" Of how her father was

Akron Woman Rejoices Over Good Fortune

"My husband is taking Tania, now, because he saw how it restored me to health and it has done him a world of good, too," said Mrs. Charles E. Mante, wife of the well known proprietor of the Confectioneries store and who resides at 631 Union St., Akron. She continued:

"I took Tania after an attack of the flu that left me all run down. I needed something to build me up, and that's exactly what Tania did. I was in danger of a relapse, but I started taking it, and soon I felt so well and strong I knew all danger was past. First, it gave me an appetite such as I haven't had for years, and then it soothed and toned up my stomach so that my digestion was perfect. I feel I give me new strength almost with every dose, and instead of being tired and listless as I had been I was full of energy and as happy as the day is long."

"I was so pleased with what Tania did for me I called on a number of my neighbors whom I knew had had the flu and who needed something to build them up and induce them to try Tania. Now they are as enthusiastic about it as I am. When my husband began to suffer from stomach trouble the first thing he thought of was Tania. It has helped him so wonderfully it's a question now which one of us talks Tania most. It's a grand medicine and a stand by at our house."

Tania is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Strach Pharmacy and by the leading druggists in every town—adv.

Meetings at Trinity M. E.

It was with the enthusiasm of Redeemer that the Junior chorus sang their songs to the great crowd at the Sunday morning service, Trinity M. E. Revival. Then while Dr. Butler delivered a short children's sermon, the Junior chorus sang "The Lord's Prayer," and the older folks as well, in singing, "Everybody Ought to Love Jesus." The Junior chorus seemed to strike the chord of Christian fellowship and Methodist warmness which the enthusiastic congregation was quick to take up under the inspiring leadership of the chorister, Mr. Bennett. Miss Grace Hollands rendered excellently as a solo, the selection, "Some Other Day."

Upon the topic "Blue Sunday," Dr. Butler said in part: "The 'Blue Sunday' is not fitting because the sky alone is blue on Sunday. But with the licentiousness and riotous living that attend the Christian faith. Then there are those hypocritical reformers who picture the day of sacred blessing in loose, sloppy terms. Oh! what a gloomy and dreary day it is made appear."

But these outcries are untimely for there never was a time in which the country needed so sorely a sound, wholesome revival.

Cartoonists are hired to depict the Christian as a bled, repulsive, grotesque in appearance. This brave war of the pen and the brush is constantly being waged. Clergymen are painted in the most ridiculous colors by the motion picture shows and the minstrel shows of local talent. These cartoons are not only true, but they are also true to the heart of the Christian. They are the real facts of "Blue Sunday."

Notwithstanding the extreme of strictness is not desired but only the strictest of the Lord's day by the members of the organization of Christianity and by the citizens of a Christian nation. Why should the allies of the devil rebel Christianity of the proper observance of the Seventh day, wherein lies the seat of our national greatness?

There is an national argument against "Sunday for Christ." These materialists are not able to deceive the great mass of people. High ideals cannot be displaced by low air. It is a false statement that the success of a novel or drama depends upon the obscenity of the language. These Bohemian reformers are a representation of the sum of the bolting pot, not of the bulwark of the American people. The Lord's Day is different from the Jewish Sabbath. It is the seal of the redemption of the Christian, a signal victory over death and the grave.

If the Sabbath Day is observed as Christ would have it done, it would be a boon beyond the expression of words. The loss of this observance would be a irreparable tragedy. Yet twice each week Christianity will never be destroyed until the Seventh day is destroyed. Though times have changed why not hold on to the best? Lack of religious power and influence may cause our Great Republic to fall. The nations need to be re-energized and re-estimated. It behooves us to pledge ourselves and our hearts in

Too Much Tobacco After Forty-Five Suicidal, Says Doctor

Immoderate use of tobacco after forty-five is suicidal, says Dr. Hirschfeld, eminent medical author, and other doctors agree with him. Excessive use of tobacco is bad for anyone, any time, and how much you can stand can only be told after it is too late if you have used too much. Better to quit, and have used too much, than to get a few Nicotol tablets from any druggist and let them drive the craving from you. You want to feel better, and how much better you feel without tobacco you can do so at any time. Nicotol is sold under a positive money-back guarantee. It costs you little to quit and nothing if Nicotol fails.

Next, if you are smoking too much let Nicotol help you reduce the quantity and show you how easy it is to quit. After four or five days of use, the success of Nicotol, he knows and can be trusted to tell you, the truth.—Adv.

greatest devotion to him, and try to depend in every way the day set aside for his worship.

Sunday Afternoon

"Sunday afternoon at two thirty a meeting was held for mothers and daughters. Rev. Butler spoke on 'The Relation of Mothers and Daughters and their place in the Home and in the World.'"

There is no more beautiful sight under Heaven than that of a mother and her children living happily together.

Evening Worship

The evening crowd filled the church to overflowing. The responsive congregation heartily enjoyed the music, chorus selections, and Miss Stewart's solo "Will You Be Ready?" Dr. Butler spoke upon the subject "Demands for Amusements." The text was "There is no more beautiful sight under Heaven than that of a mother and her children living happily together."

Victorious Life Conference

Yesterday was the closing day of the Victorious Life Conference, and it was indeed a great day. The evangelists, Rev. Dr. A. J. Ramsey, D. D. of Pasadena, Cal., and the Rev. Robert C. McQuillen of Philadelphia endeavored themselves to the hearts of many people who were helped by the gospel messages and personal interviews. The large audience of yesterday responded to the message in a way that gave evidence of the convincing power of the word. Possibly the strongest message of the week was given before the smallest audience of the week, on Saturday night. People of Portsmouth are not in the habit of going to church on Saturday, but those who failed to attend the sessions of Saturday missed a real treat. On Sunday morning Rev. McQuillen spoke at the First Baptist church both at the Sunday school hour and at the regular preaching service, while Dr. Ramsey addressed the Sunday school and the congregation at the Franklin Ave. church. On Sunday afternoon there was a well attended mass meeting at the Franklin Ave. church, at which time many persons gave a personal testimony as to what these meetings had meant to them in the advancement of their Christian life. At night Dr. Ramsey preached at the Second Presbyterian church to a large and appreciative audience, where he had previously been engaged in meetings and had proved a real blessing to so many people. At the same time Rev. McQuillen spoke to a crowded house at the Franklin Ave. church. All of their messages were an exaltation of the Christ, and a perfect Savior, by whom we may have confidence in victory over sin, and without whom it is absolutely impossible to lead a Christian life. God has met every need of the human soul, and its main gets the right relationship to God he finds the grace of God sufficient. The only victorious life is the life that is hidden with Christ in God.

The evangelistic campaign at Franklin Ave. church will continue through this and next week, with services each evening at 7:15 o'clock, excepting Saturday. Come and join in the singing and hear the gospel messages to be given by the pastor of the church and have a real part in the kingdom work.

First Baptist Church

There was a big crowd at the First Baptist church last night at the opening of the revival meeting. The choir, orchestra and soloists, made the old church ring as they sang from the leaflets "Since Jesus Came into My Heart." "I've Placed my Trust in Him," and "So You Bring the one next to you, and I'll bring the next to me," right in the midst of this song the pastor called Little George Jones to the platform to sing the chorus, by this time enthusiasm was running so high that the congregation led by a number of children began to sing "The Lord's Prayer." "We must show our colors" which was rendered by the choir in a most forceful and inspiring manner came as a challenge at the beginning of our campaign. The pastor took as his text, Gen. 3:7, "And they hid themselves from the presence of the Lord their Maker." This was a personal and individual question and that most folks like Adam were trying to hide behind something or somebody, and shouted out if you are a guilty rebel tonight trying to hide from the presence of God, I'll bring the next to me. Workmanship of High Order Distinguishes the Clothes of Our Children's Store

Mother who bring their boys and girls here to try on suits, dresses, and hats for present and later wear will find our displays of juvenile apparel liberally punctuated with garments springy in style, color and fabric, with prices gratifyingly low.

Each Little Girl Should Have Many Changes of Gingham Frocks

Very smart and certain to win the approval of girls from 2 to 16 are these frocks of checked, plaid, striped and plain gingham in various color effects. Collars, patch pockets and touches of hand work provide interesting notes on these spring models for the misses.

Prices range from $2.00 to $2.98

Sweaters for the Children

No wonder the little girls do not want to wear coats when they roller skate and play. They are altogether too bulky and, therefore, cannot help hindering free action. Sweaters are different. They are plenty warm enough and weigh almost nothing. The models intended for girls come in all good shades, such as, copen, rose, brown and navy, from 2 years up. Our price, $3.98 to $8.00.

Madge Evans Hats for Girls

Madge Evans hats are adorable for curly-headed little girls as well as the saucy bob-haired tots. These hats are nationally advertised and are liked and admired in every city. They are specially made to conform to the likes and desires of the young miss and in no less manner do they appeal to the mothers. Good range of styles is now being shown at $3.98 to $9.98.

You Will Quickly See Real Value In These Boys' Suits at $6.75 and up

Parents who pride themselves on knowing good values in children's clothes when they see them will be quick to appreciate the superior workmanship, the excellent fit and the snappy new styles, which distinguish these boys' suits. The boys themselves like them for their wearing qualities and the desirable touches of style which appeal to the now-a-days particular youngster. The fabrics are all wool and tasteful—two more points in their favor—and you won't find suits that are more attractive from an economy standpoint.

SUITS FOR LITTLE FELLOWS, ages 2-12 to 6 years, $6.75 and up.

SUITS FOR BIGGER BOYS, ages 7 to 18 years, $7.50 and up.

SEPARATE TROUSERS, ages to 16, $1.15 to $3.00.

Furnishings For Boys

Our children's store has a special stock of furnishings for boys and here you will find the new hats for spring in straw, priced at $1.09 to $2.00, and in felts and tweeds at $1.25 to $2.

KAYNEE SHIRTS AND BLOUSES, guaranteed fast colors, have become very popular with boys and their parents. These high grade blouses are marked at $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50, while the shirts range $1.65, $2.00 and $2.25.

Good lines of boys' Easter furnishings such as ties, collars, belts, suspenders and the like.

Do You Want To Catch A Rabbit?

We have a big lot of rabbits, big, little and medium sized and we are giving them away with a purchase of $10.00, or over, from our children's department. The children must have clothes for spring and Easter so why not buy them here and get a live rabbit, free in the bargain. The purchase of $10.00, or over, entitles the child to take his choice of the live, frisky, playful bunnies, and to add to the fun, the child gets to go into the rabbit pen and catch by the big long ears, or the short bushy tail, or, if he prefers, by a hind leg, any of the wild, ferocious, man-eating rabbits he wishes and to take it home captive as a pet.

The choir members are asked to meet at the church Saturday evening to meet Miss Julia Sells, of Newark, who will direct the chorus during the eight day revival. Miss Sells is highly recommended by those who have seen her work, and it is thought the singing during the meeting will be of high order. Every member of the chorus is asked to be present promptly at 7:30. The session will last but a very short time.

While the Loyal Men's Class was forced to lower its colors to the Berean class of Nelsonville, Sunday, 165 to 200, the local organization is not at all cast down. A defeat will spur the men to foster things and they plan to overcome the handicap next Sunday.

With an attendance of 1253 in the Bible School yesterday, everything points to a great success in the eight day meetings that will begin on next Sunday, which will be known as Decision Day. The church was never in better condition, and every member will not doubt do his part willingly to make the revival the greatest in the history of the church.

ARRESTED FOR TRYING TO WAKE UP Ironton

The Sunday Irontonian said: An entertainment being conducted by "Sassafras Eddie" and Frank Hollingshead, of Portsmouth, on the corner of Third and Center streets Saturday afternoon, was rudely interrupted by Officer Norris, who placed both entertainers under arrest and marched them to the city hall.

"Sassafras Eddie" had seated himself on the curb with his hat wrong-side up for nickles and was making music on his guitar, when Hollingshead, who was somewhat intoxicated, happened along. Hollingshead cleared the sidewalk and began a lively "hoo-down" which furnished much amusement for the passers-by, but interfered with their progress, hence the complaint.

"Sassafras" has previously been ordered to abandon soliciting on the streets with his guitar and hat, but had failed to take heed. Both men were arraigned before the mayor and later released.

M. W. BROWN TELLS ABOUT CLIMATE IN NEW MEXICO

Writing to his nephew, Dr. L. D. Allard, of this city, from La Mesa, New Mexico, M. W. Brown tells of the splendid climate and describes the wonderful country with its splendid scenery in this language:

"I wish you could take in the fine view here. The Rio Grande valley, with the broad river extending from El Paso to the Benito Dam, 132 miles, with the Oregon mountains on the north and the La Mesa foothills on the south and the blue tops of Old Mexico mountains showing up in the distance. This is a fine climate. According to the weather statistics, there were 829 sunny days and 36 cloudy days last year. The highest temperature recorded for the year was 94 in July and the lowest 31 in December. The rainfall was 10 inches.

There has been no rain here since October, not enough to settle the dust. The native Mexicans here are a quiet, peaceful race, not making an effort to get rich like the Buckeyes do, but are satisfied with three or four cents ahead and plenty of tobacco and cigarettes. Plenty "T. B.'s" here because they cannot live anywhere else. The altitude here is 3,500 feet above sea level."

Pure Rich Blood Will Keep Your Body Vigorous And Healthy

When impurities creep into your blood the first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown.

This whole condition is a warning that nature needs assistance in giving the system a general house-cleaning.

Nearly everybody needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to cleanse out all impurities about twice a year. It is an excellent idea to take this precaution to keep the system in a vigorous condition so as to more easily resist disease to which every one is subject. S. S. S. is without equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young.

Here You Have It! The Latest of Francis Lynde's Wonderful Railroad Stories!

When Graham Norcross, general manager of the Pioneer Snort Line, determined to run his railroad squarely, he was in for the fight of his life with the corrupt stock jobbers and crooked politicians in league with them.

Norcross' opponents meant business. They didn't shy at gun fights and causing train wrecks.

Here are some real adventures in big business. Here's a thrilling story of railroading in the West that holds you with its vividness and realism and—oh, yes—its romance, too.

What happened is all told in a delightfully breezy and irresistibly absorbing way by Norcross' boy stenographer—Jimmy Dodds.

Your Manners

It Is Correct
When entering a tennis tournament match to become familiar with the rules before sending in your entry.
To thank the umpire after a game.
To return a stray ball that comes your way, quickly and as near the server as possible.
When returning a stray ball from inside the courts, roll it along the ground.

For each player's opponent to call the "in" and "out" balls of the other.

It Is Not Correct
To call "in" and "out" for balls you have hit.
For either player to neglect to keep the point or game score when there is no umpire.
To fail to comply with a player's "Thank you" when it is a request for the return of a stray ball.
To keep your opponent in a tennis match waiting after the time allowed for resting is up.
For players to dispute the decision of the umpire.

Mrs. Anna Mailey and daughter, Miss Alice, of Fifth street, will leave Friday for Cincinnati, where they will attend grand opera and will see "The Follies."

Mrs. J. E. Macdowell has returned to her home in Roanoke, Va. after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Bothwell of Glover street. Mrs. Macdowell was accompanied home by her husband, who came Friday night for a brief stay.

In honor of her husband's birthday anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. M. Lerman entertained a few friends at dinner Sunday evening at their home, Eighteenth and Oakland avenue. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Horchow, Mr. and Mrs. N. Albert of Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Greenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. William Anarch. One of the pleasant features of the evening was the dancing of June Edith, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lerman.

Mrs. Joseph Harris of 1922 Robinson avenue and Mrs. Orlando Southworth of Columbus, both life-long friends, are enjoying reminiscing after having not seen each other for twenty-four years. Today Mrs. Harris entertained Mrs. Southworth and her mother, Mrs. Mary C. Bruce, of Twelfth street, at dinner. Mrs. Southworth is the mother of Billie Southworth, the ball-player, and moved from her home in Wakefield to Columbus, her mother, Mrs. Bruce coming here from Wakefield.

On Tuesday evening (tomorrow) the teachers and girls in the intermediate department of the Second Presbyterian Sunday school will have a winter-picnic in the basement of the church at 6:30. Each class will give a skit and a good time is promised for all.

The Everyland Mission Circle of the First Evangelical church elected officers at the meeting held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Otto Lauffer on Sixth street. The officers who were chosen to serve are: Elizabeth Staker, president; Dorothy Brunner, vice-president; Margaret Lauffer, secretary; Clara Bender, treasurer. After the devotionals, Mrs. George M. Appel told very interestingly of her trip into foreign countries; Miss Lillian Gims gave a vocal selection and Misses Julia and Edna Arbogast played a violin and piano selection. Refreshments concluded the meeting.

Mrs. H. A. Schirrmann of Chillicothe street will receive the members of the Art Circle for the regular meeting on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Nell Connell of Fourth street left Saturday for a month's visit with relatives at Sebring, Fla.

JOY BROUGHT INTO HOME
By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Restoring Mrs. Benz to Health

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We have had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. As I was going to have another, I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says, 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show this letter."—Mrs. C. W. Benz, 131 3rd Ave., Altoona, Pa.

No woman can realize the joy and happiness this healthy baby brought into the home of Mrs. Benz, unless they have had a like experience.

Every woman who suffers from ailments peculiar to her sex, as indicated by backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, irregularities, nervousness and "the blues" should not rest until they have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

BILLY WILKES

FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

There was great excitement on the farm the next morning for the doctor's horse had been driven into the barnyard and tied while the doctor set a broken leg for a man who had fallen through a hole in the hay loft, upon a moving machine that was stored in one of the rooms beneath.

This horse brought the news that there was going to be a county fair in town, a fat stock show, running races, a display of fruit and vegetables, for which judges would award prizes to the owners of the largest and most perfect specimens.

There was also to be a display of poultry and cooked things, such as preserves, canned fruits, pickles, pies and cakes.

"I heard one of the judges talking to Mr. West this morning, as I stood before the postoffice, and they stood on the steps, saying that he would be expected to send specimens of all the things raised on his farm and also that he was on the list to furnish a horse to run in all the races."

All this was indeed exciting news for it meant that some of the animals that he had these words would be chosen to be fattened, primed and made ready for the fair.

Prince and Major, the two stallions, pranced around in great glee, for they were sure that they would be chosen to go to the fair.

"You may and you may not be selected," said Billy to the two prancing stallions, which remark brought them to a sudden standstill before him to learn what he meant.

"I meant this, that I think Mr. West will choose Fleet, the three-year-old colt, to be trained for the race, for she is the fleetest footed of all the colts. For she is certainly as fine a specimen of horse flesh as I have ever seen, and I consider myself a judge on these matters."

"Ha! ha! ha! ha!" laughed Prince. "Excuse my levity, but when may I ask, did you acquire your wonderful knowledge? On a little farm down east?"

"No, not on a farm, but—in a circus—where one sees the finest horses in the world. And may I add that in this circus they had fine perfectly matched, trained stallions, any one of which was a thousand times handsomer and smarter than you are, Mr. Prince."

"Did you say that you had been in a circus?" asked Prince, too much astonished at the news to feel angry at Billy's cutting sarcasm.

(Billy is envied by all his friends because of his circus life.)

THE LAST DANCE
Celeste brushed her lady's hair for a long time, and Gwendolyn responded to the gentle caress of the brush on her tired head. By the end of the half hour she was almost restored to her usual spirits and was laughing and joking with Celeste as of old.

"Madelonelle should retire soon. Ce soir elle est bien fatiguée, la pauvre, petite," cooed she in her melodious French, patting her mistress's hand sympathetically as she finished dressing her and held out Gwendolyn's cloak to her, preparatory to leaving the room.

"You are right, Celeste," answered Gwendolyn. "I am very, very fatigued. I need to sleep and forget for about six months. And I shall do so far sooner than you think. Come to me early tomorrow morning, for I shall have something most important to tell you then. Now, the one important thing for me to do is to get rest."

"Bien, mademoiselle," said Celeste, smiling, as she and her mistress hurried out to a waiting taxi and were driven rapidly from the theater to their hotel.

"Je suis so de-lighted that mademoiselle did not join the huge festival this evening, as she planned. It will end so late and most of the company will get so very drunk. It is all so useless, really, when one is tired, very tired," murmured Celeste.

The next morning dawned golden clear, and Gwendolyn awoke greatly refreshed by her slumber, and ready to face any and all problems, with an open mind.

Celeste came gliding in and prepared her bath and breakfast, and

A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent to show you how to end film. See below.

Five Quick Effects

When you brush teeth in this way

This new way of tooth brushing brings five desired effects. Some are immediate, all are quick. A ten-day test, which costs you nothing, will clearly show you what they mean to you.

Leading dentists everywhere advise this new-day method. Millions now employ it. You see the results in glistening teeth wherever people gather. Now let your own teeth show them.

You must fight film

Brushing does not save the teeth if you leave the film. That's why well-brushed teeth so often discolor and decay.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The ordinary tooth paste does not end it, so very few people have escaped its damage.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the base of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. So dental science has in late years sought ways to fight that film.

Scientific methods

Efficient methods have been found. Able authorities have proved them by many careful tests. The best dental opinion endorses them.

These methods are combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And to let all know its benefits a 10-Day Tube is being sent to everyone who asks.

A 10-day test is free

Pepsodent quickly proves itself. The results are unique and conspicuous. And a book we send tells what each one means.

One ingredient is papain. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. The saliva's alkalinity is multiplied also. That to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

Pepsodent, twice daily, attacks the teeth's chief enemies. Send the coupon for this 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

The results in ten days will amaze and delight you. Make this test now. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

AMERICAN CAVES THINGS OF BEAUTY.
The deepest cave known in the world is one found near Fredericshall, Norway, it being 17,000 feet. Think of it, almost two miles deep! But it is worth the trip down into its depths, for many of the wonders of nature are to be found there. However, when it comes to real beauty and interest there are no caves that can excel those of our own country.

LOSS OF APPETITE
Pimples, Boils, Eruptions, etc.—Mental and Physical Weakness. Are all very prevalent just now, and are positive proof that the blood is wanting in the power to defend the body against contagious and infectious diseases. They show conclusively that the blood needs thorough cleansing, enriching and vitalizing.

Do not put off giving attention to these dangerous symptoms today and begin taking it at once. Remember, this medicine has given satisfaction to three generations, as a treatment for the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys, and for catarrh, rheumatism and other common diseases. It builds up the system, makes food taste good, and helps you to eat and sleep well.

For a gentle laxative or an active cathartic, take Hood's Pills. You will like them.

OPERATIC STAR TO MARRY SECRETARY OF ENRICO CARUSO

The Night Reverend Boyd Vincent, D. D., L. L. D., celebrated the Holy Eucharist at All Saints' church at 7:00 a. m. yesterday and preached to a large congregation at the morning service.

At the early service nearly one hundred people communicated. All the members of the 1921 confirmation class received their first communion at this time. At morning prayer the Bishop preached a notable sermon on the Humanity of Jesus. He prefaced his sermon with a personal word to the congregation, congratulating them on the long and honorable history of the parish and stating that its best days were yet to come. He paid a grateful tribute to the work of the Rector during the past eleven years, and said that in that time he had become "a power in his parish, in the community, and in the whole diocese."

At the close of the service, James Wilhelm, baritone, sang as a solo "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again." It was a beautiful and fitting termination to a memorable service. Passion Sunday, 1921, will be remembered as a Red Letter Day in the history of the old parish church. Men were present in force at all services throughout the day.

Practice limited to LUNG TROUBLE and diseases of WOMEN.

LOSS OF APPETITE
Pimples, Boils, Eruptions, etc.—Mental and Physical Weakness. Are all very prevalent just now, and are positive proof that the blood is wanting in the power to defend the body against contagious and infectious diseases. They show conclusively that the blood needs thorough cleansing, enriching and vitalizing.

Do not put off giving attention to these dangerous symptoms today and begin taking it at once. Remember, this medicine has given satisfaction to three generations, as a treatment for the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys, and for catarrh, rheumatism and other common diseases. It builds up the system, makes food taste good, and helps you to eat and sleep well.

For a gentle laxative or an active cathartic, take Hood's Pills. You will like them.

In reply, attorneys for the defense said that an attempt was being made to keep the indicted men under a cloud of suspicion and to prevent them from earning an honest living.

To this the state replied that Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, baseball commissioner, already had placed the players on the ineligible list and that President Comiskey, of the White Sox, had said they could never play on his team, whether guilty or innocent.

Benedict Short, attorney for Williams and Jackson, said the men were being given "dirty treatment."

"There is a Caesar-like person who sits at the head of baseball and issues ukases with both hands," he said. "One of his objects seems to be to besmirch these innocent men."

Joe Jackson also was in court, but Fred McMullin was represented by counsel.

Railroads

Mr. Walsh referred to the labor situation in the packing industry, charging that the packers had "joined with the Morgans and Gays and railroad heads in a concrete attempt to ruin labor unions forever."

Mr. Walsh presented a list of men he wanted subpoenaed some time ago with the request that the board have them appear last Thursday. The hearing then was postponed until today and this morning Mr. Walsh made public the following list of officials whom he said could "give illuminating information if called before the board": W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania lines; Hale Holden, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy; C. H. Markham, of the Illinois Central; H. E. Pyram, of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; Carl R. Gray, of the Union Pacific; W. G. Besler, of the Central of New Jersey; E. E. Loomis, of the Lehigh Valley; J. H. Young, of the Norfolk and Southern; J. H. Hustis, of the Boston and Maine; N. D. Maher, of the Norfolk and Western; and W. H. Scott of the Southern Pacific.

These men were said to constitute the labor committee of the Association of Railway Executives.

Subpoenas also were asked for T. Dewitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives; Robert S. Binkerd, assistant to Mr. Atterbury, and the following heads of various railroad statistical bureaus: J. W. Higgins, Charles T. Neill, A. W. Trenholm, Sr., and John G. Walber.

Walber and Neill were present at the hearing, but Mr. Walsh refused to put them on the stand. He said he wanted to question Atterbury, Gray, Binkerd and Cuyler first.

Hamon

Frank L. Ketch, formerly business manager for Jake L. Hamon, for whose alleged murder Clara Hamon is on trial, went on the witness stand today over the objection of an assistant county attorney, who announced that developments Saturday indicated that Ketch would be charged as an accessory after the fact.

Judge Thomas W. Champion ruled Ketch should testify, however, and after he left the stand, S. P. Freeling, state attorney general, said that the witness under the law had been rendered immune by the fact he had testified on the stand.

Ketch, now administrator of the Hamon estate, testified that under Jake Hamon's instructions he had drawn $5,000 from his personal account, given it to Clara Hamon on the day following Hamon's shooting in the hotel suite he occupied with the young woman, and had told her to leave Ardmore and remain away.

Ketch said on the witness stand that Mr. Hamon at first told him he had shot himself accidentally, and in a moment changed that statement to one that Clara Hamon had fired the bullet and that the matter should be hushed up and Clara gotten away as Mrs. Hamon and the children would come to Ardmore as soon as they heard of the affair.

"Jake, where is she?" Ketch said were his first words to Hamon when he arrived at the hospital to which Hamon had walked after he was shot.

"I did it myself," Ketch says Hamon replied.

"Don't tell me that," Ketch said he replied to Hamon.

He then charged that Clara Hamon shot him in the darkness of his room as he lay on his bed, Ketch continued, adding that Mr. Hamon said:

"I want it given out that I did it myself, and give Clara some money and have her get away. My wife will be here as soon as she hears of this and I want Clara to go. Tell the world any kind of a story; that I dropped the gun; anything."

Mrs. Jake L. Hamon, who appeared thoroughly composed, took the stand at 1:40 p. m.

Affidavits in the Miriam Rubin case signed by the child's father, mother and the attending Chiropractor.

Affidavit in Rubin Case

When the news of the child's recovery was flashed abroad a storm of scientific discussion was precipitated. Anticipating criticism of scoffers, friends of Dr. Berger advised him to secure an affidavit by the parents. This he did, he signing it jointly with Mr. and Mrs. Rubin.

"We, the undersigned, each being duly sworn, on oath depose and say that Miriam Rubin, 3 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rubin of 132 Gillette avenue, Waukegan, Ill., became afflicted with a malady referred to as talking sickness and from the time she became ill was talking constantly and continuously for eight days.

"That during that time Miriam Rubin did not sleep, but merely continued to talk. Dr. R. H. T. Nesbitt of Waukegan, Ill., the family physician, was called shortly after she became ill. Dr. Brown, county physician, of Waukegan, was called for consultation, and in addition there were called into the case the following physicians, specialists, from Chicago. Dr. Robert B. Preble, 30 N. Michigan avenue; Dr. Alonzo C. Tenney, 25 E. Washington street, and Dr. Isaac A. Abt, 104 S. Michigan avenue, all of whom immediately made all necessary blood tests and examinations, and their prognosis did not disclose the nature of the malady, and they were unable from their examinations and diagnosis of the case to offer any solution or remedy for the patient, and during all of this time the patient continued to talk constantly as before without any sleep whatsoever.

"That on the ninth day of her illness Dr. Paul O. Berger, a practicing chiropractor in Waukegan, was called to treat the patient and found upon examination of the spinal column that the patient had two misplaced vertebrae in the neck, one of which pinched the nerve affecting the speech center of the brain.

"And that on the ninth day he administered two chiropractic adjustments to the said patient, and that after a lapse of about twelve hours, and during the tenth day of the illness of the patient, she showed marked and noticeable improvement and for the first time during her illness slept for brief periods, her temperature became lower than it had been at any time during the nine days of her illness; that the said Dr. Paul O. Berger continued to administer the chiropractic adjustments daily for about three days, and that at the end of three days the patient had ceased talking and the symptoms of the malady entirely disappeared, the patient was resting and sleeping soundly and that her present condition is normal.

the President about that.

The Vice President momentarily forgot that about ten minutes before the photograph was admitted in the presence of the Cabinet, where their cameras took away many records of the Vice President's placid countenance at the end of the table opposite the President; that is, between the Secretary of Commerce and the Secretary of Labor.

While very little was said about the part the Vice President played in the Cabinet meeting, it was announced of reliably later that his advice had been sought in exactly the same way as if he were the head of a government department. Vice President Sherman sat with the Taft Cabinet for a while, but the practice was soon discontinued because of the relation of the Vice President to the Senate over which he sits as a presiding officer, and in which body he is privileged to cast a vote in the event of a tie.

There always has been considerable jealousy between the executive and legislative branches of the government, and it is not altogether certain that the Vice President will find it to his liking to be a part from the administrative machinery of the government in the one hand and presiding officer and member of the executive branch of the government on the other.

The theory back of the admission of the Vice President to the Cabinet meeting is that he shall be well informed in case of an emergency and be ready to take over the reins of government. The opportunity to get such a training, however, is not to be found in Cabinet meetings, where the discussion centers primarily in business of an administrative nature instead of general policy. Indeed, it is suggested that Mr. Coolidge may feel obliged to withdraw from the discussion as relates to legislation on which he might be compelled to cast a deciding vote.

President Harding has succeeded at the outset, however, in conveying the idea that he wants to take counsel. He is by no means set in his opinions, and he has revealed a real passion for harmonious agreement, both in his Cabinet and in Congress.

reductions of 35 and 12 1-2 percent in the hourly rate and piece work rate respectively, with time and a half for overtime only after ten hours.

"Any assumption that we are attempting to establish a ten hour day is wrong," said a statement from Armour & Company today in answer to charges of union leaders. "The whistle in the Armour plants will continue to blow at the end of eight hours' work each day."

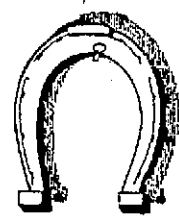

At mass meetings held in a half dozen packing cities yesterday the workers were advised to remain at work until the strike vote was completed, which it was said here would be about Friday. Union leaders suggested Friday, March 18, as the date for the proposed conference in Washington of representatives of employers and employees with James J. Davis, secretary of labor. According to reports here, Secretary Davis had not yet received but one official response from the packers to his mediation proposal. Wilson & Company agreed to send two representatives.

In a drastic shake-up of the police department, Captain Wesley H. Westbrook was on duty today in the stock yards police district because of his ability to cope with labor troubles, Chief of Police Fitzmorris said.

"Our cut in wages is small when compared to other firms," said the statement of Armour & Company. "We have a list of 21 other firms reducing wages where the decreases ran from 14.25 to 33.24 percent. The stockholders of Armour & Company could not dodge the fact that we are losing money. That is why wages are reduced."

"Thousands of packing house employees marched in the rain 'back of the yards' here yesterday afternoon and later listened to outdoor speeches of union leaders who urged them not to start a runaway strike."

Packing house employees in Fort Worth, Kansas City, and Sioux City, also decided at mass meetings yesterday to go to work today pending completion of the strike vote. Employees

Hurd was on his way to the depot and was on the main west bound track at the east end of the depot. He heard a train coming from the east, but thought it was the B. & O. and did not pay any more attention to it. The injured man was taken to Hopewell hospital by Dr. Albert Bernat and an X-ray taken by Virgil Fowler showed the left hip to be fractured just below the hip joint. An X-ray of the right hip showed it to be only bruised. Engineer S. L. Croyer of 1231 Center street applied the air-brakes as soon as his engine struck Hurd, and this coupled with the fact that the train was making less than 10 miles an hour saved Hurd from more serious injury. Hurd lives on Fifteenth street and is an N. & W. employee off duty on account of reduction in working force. J. S. Dunn was conductor and L. F. Dunn, Engineer of No. 29.

Tariff And Revenue Before Congressional Committees

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 14.—Formulation of a definite program for tariff and internal revenue legislation confronted Republican members of the senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee today on meeting with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to draft detailed recommendations to be submitted to President Harding.

Whether enactment of a stop gap emergency tariff measure should be given precedence over revenue legislation was one of the questions to be decided. Although the Republican members of both committees were known to hold divergent views on this point, the drift of sentiment appeared to favor an attempt to put through as speedily as possible after convening of congress in April a new emergency tariff measure for the protection of agricultural interests. Senator Penrose, chairman of the finance committee, has expressed the opinion that such a measure could be passed in short time if more closely limited in its schedules than was the Fordney bill vetoed by former President Wilson.

With a definite agreement reached on the program to be followed both senate and house committees planned to begin work probably this week on the fiscal legislation for the April session, the latter undertaking the draft of the first bill to be introduced immediately upon the convening of congress.

Vise Passport

NAPLES, March 14.—Father John Hoch, whose passport will not be vised by the American consul here, intends to go to Rome to ask an explanation from the American embassy. This action will be taken through the Czechoslovak legation at the Italian capital, it is said. Later, he intends to go to Vienna, in which city he will take the necessary steps to get permission to enter the United States.

Father Hoch was accused of being an associate of Count Michael Karolyi, former president of the Hungarian republic, who was expelled from Italy, two weeks ago. He intended to sail to the United States with several companions, but the refusal of the American consulate to vise his passport brought about an alteration in his plans. The men who were going with him have been advised to remain here, as it is doubtful whether they would be permitted to land on American soil.

in Energy and Enthusiasm,
Your Blood is Probably Thin
and Needs a Tonic

The first and perhaps the only thing you can do to avoid the dangers that would come if there were an epidemic, is to take special care of your health. Keep your blood in good condition. The blood very often gets in bad shape, almost without your knowing it. How many times you feel tired and exhausted. You have an all-gone feeling for weeks. You don't care about eating or going anywhere. Your work becomes an effort and you wake up in the morning, more tired than when you went to bed.

When you feel like that, look to your blood. You can be pretty sure it is in a weakened condition. You have been straining either mentally or physically and your blood has become clogged with poison.

Don't let yourself get run down. If you do not feel right, begin taking Gude's Pepto-Mangan and keep it up for awhile.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form and is sold by druggists everywhere. The liquid and tablets have exactly the same medicinal value. Buy whichever you prefer and be sure it is genuine "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." The name "Gude's" is on the package—only.

Looking Twice.
Self-made men, particularly those who have advertised themselves as such, are finding their idols tottering on their pedestals in the face of the increasing attacks by the forces of education. A professor in a teacher's college expresses himself as follows: "The fundamental cause of our poor attendance (in the upper school grades) is the pernicious cult of the self-made man." While a young man, in writing to tell his reasons for wanting to go to college, clarifies his point in this fashion: "We often meet the 'gentleman' who says, 'I never had an education and look at me'—and we look. We don't say anything but we think a lot."

What is expected to be one of the best home talent shows of the season will be presented tonight in the New Boston high school auditorium by the George Ditty Camp Woodmen of the World of New Boston. The organization will give a minstrel which will start at 8:15, sharp.

The members of the cast have been working for several weeks under the direction of James Cooper, blackface artist extraordinary, who made a hit in the Elks' minstrel. He has surrounded himself with the best talent in the lodge and has succeeded in getting together a cast that is sure to give a show that will meet with instant approval. The first part, old and last part will form a splendid program and, one well worth the price of admission.

The special features on the program include the Burtrum and Ray Screamers, V. Senate, roller skater and the premier end men, James Cooper and Abe Meidenbaur. Libby Pollard will be the interactor.

Everything In Readiness For
'Dress-Up-Week'
March 15th to 19th

From the sounds of the whistles and the unveiling of our windows at 5:30 Tuesday evening and the opening of our doors Wednesday morning, finds us in readiness to show you an Auspicious Exhibit of Authentic Spring Styles.

Thorough, careful preparation has preceded this presentation of new modes for Spring, 1921. The tone of subdued elegance, or refinement, that is associated with, and recognized as part of Marting Bros.' attire for women, misses and children, is a striking note in this timely exposition of what discriminating women will wear during the coming months, of what justly proud mothers will select for their young daughters. Accessories, details of dress whose importance is never underestimated by Fashion in various showings and in variety and completeness to meet the most exacting demands.

The gathering together of such wide and varied collections shows uniformly fine versatility on the part of our corps of buyers. Always they have had the customer in mind. To properly, carefully anticipate the requirements of our large and constantly growing clientele has been no small task—a task they have splendidly accomplished. Of this we feel sure, and believe you will agree with us. In keeping with this occasion our windows will have displayed many of Spring's fairest fashion blossoms. To see them will be well worth your trip down town Tuesday night. A wealth of other new things, similar and dissimilar to those displayed awaits your early inspection during this week of "Dress Up."

If you could only hold a can of paint up to the light and see any thin places in it, like you can a pair of overalls, you could tell at a glance whether it would wear. Most paints, no matter how carefully you put them on, will always sag in a series of fine ridges. Between every one of those ridges are the thin places. It doesn't take the weather long to wear through them. Then away goes the rest of the paint. That's one of the reasons why some paints don't last.

You can't hold paint up to the light but you can buy a mark of paint that has a reputation that will stand looking at that way. Of course, we mean Low's Standard Paint. Come in and ask for the facts.

"Tomato Still" Is Latest

The latest is the "tomato still" which was brought to light by Scitoville officers Sunday morning. Marshal Frank Hall of New Boston, accompanied by Deputy John Henry and Ivey McCormick, uncovered such a still at the home of Harry Boggs, Bonser's Run, back of Scitoville. The officers claim that Boggs made his whiskey out of tomato mash. Monday morning Boggs pleaded guilty to a charge of having a still in his possession and he was fined $300 and costs by Mayor J. S. Davis.

According to the officers who made the raid about 8:30 Sunday morning, they acted on a reliable tip and when they reached the Boggs home found the man of the house absent, the wife telling them he was away on a visit. A search of the house revealed a still on the heating stove in the front room.

It was a complete copper outfit of about 6 gallon capacity. The lid and coil were missing and a further search revealed them in the attic. Thinking that their man was hiding in the hills, the officers searched the hillside near the home and claim they found Boggs and a 20 gallon-copper kettle in a hollow about a half mile from the home. The kettle was said to have contained tomato mash. According to the officers Boggs said his mash was made of 20 cans of tomatoes and 50 gallons of water, sugar and yeast. A 50 gallon barrel of mash was found on the hillside near the kettle and an 8 gallon jar and a 6 gallon can of the mash were found at the house. Boggs claimed he had not yet made any whiskey but the officers say the still showed signs of recent use. The drink made from the tomatoes is of a red color and looks like the real thing.

DRESS UP WEEK STARTS TOMORROW

All retail merchants are urged to take some part in Spring Dress-Up Week which will be observed from Tuesday, March 15 to Saturday night, March 19. The Retail Merchants' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has had charge of all plans and arrangements this year for the Spring show of new styles and modes.

The unveiling of the windows is to take place at 5:30 Tuesday evening. The sounding of that loud by the factory whistles will announce the time for the uncovering of the windows which will be filled with the latest creations in wearing apparel for the women and men, home furnishings, etc. All lines of business are urged to get into the contest for the best window displays.

The Retail Merchants' Committee is to give $40 in five prizes for the best windows. The first prize will be $15, the second $10 and then three prizes of $5 each. The judges will be Mrs. Harry Revare, Mrs. Robert Bryan, Mrs. George Martin, Henry T. Damon, Henry Bertram and William Inman. They will judge the windows Tuesday night.

COURT HOUSE

Youths Ordered Into Court.
Homer Shaffer, Lude Sparks and Ken Ritchie, Easttown youths, have been ordered to appear in Juvenile court to meet a complaint made by A. E. Gillwater for alleged disturbing a religious meeting at the Pentecostal church on Sixth street, near Broadway, Sunday night.

Davis On Trial.
Leslie Davis, New Boston young man charged with making menacing threats toward Gus Esau, was brought to trial before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court at one o'clock Monday.

The charge against Davis grew out of a row which occurred at the New Boston waiting station one night last in January.

The defendant is represented by Attorney Blair and Blair and Prosecutor Sheppard appeared for the state.

Deny Guilt.
Warren Carter and his wife, Flora Carter, who live in the West End, pleaded not guilty Monday when brought into probate court to meet complaints of neglecting their five minor children.

Judge Gilliland continued the cases for hearing at a later date and released the defendants from custody on $500 bond each.

Mrs. Schaffer Given Divorce.
Susanna Schaffer, Third street, was granted a decree by Judge Thomas Monday divorcing her from Frank Schaffer, formerly of South Webster, now living in the west.

They were married April 26, 1918, and the decree was granted on the ground of cruelty. The case was submitted to the court several days ago and was then continued for further investigation. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney W. R. Sprague.

Need Case Reassigned.
The case of the state against John Neal, New Boston man, charged with rape upon Flossie Pruitt, 12-year-old New Boston girl, will again be brought to trial before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court on Monday, March 21.

The case was tried a few days ago but the hearing resulted in a mistrial through the failure of the jury to reach an agreement and the case was reassigned at the instance of Judge Thomas, who will empanel a special jury to hear the case.

The accused is represented by Attorney R. P. Kimble and Prosecutor Sheppard for the state.

Wife Answers Suit.
For answer and cross motion to the divorce suit of Benjamin Fossett, of Waller street, Lillian Fossett, Cincinnati, denies his charges and through Attorney Henry Hoyer, Cincinnati, accuses him of willful absence and neglect, declaring that a few days after their marriage in January 1918, he deserted her in Cincinnati without fault or blame on her part and claims he has since failed to return. She seeks the divorce and her former name of Nelson.

Motion Sustained; Nash Discharged

A motion filed Monday by Attorney J. T. Micklethwait on behalf of the defendant in the case of the State against Sam Nash, West End young man, charged with larceny, to be discharged for the reason that more than three terms of court had passed without him having been brought to trial, was sustained by Judge Thomas.

The indictment alleged that Nash participated with Sam Cutlip and Orin Cassidy in the theft of a dozen quarts of whiskey from the home of Mat Holzman at Worley's Run, West Side, on July 4, 1919. Cutlip pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the Reformatory and it was claimed he absconded Nash from any connection with the offense.

Indictment Nolleed; Evans Released.
On motion of Prosecutor George W. Sheppard Monday Judge Thomas entered a nolle in the indictments in the case of Edward Evans, West End young man, indicted jointly with Charles Burt with burglary and larceny and receiving stolen goods in connection with the Southern Loan company pawn shop robbery a few weeks ago.

The statement of Charles Burt, who confessed to the burglary, exonerated Evans and a further investigation led the prosecutor to decide that it would be useless to press the charge further. Evans, who has been confined in the county jail since his arrest with Burt at Cincinnati, was ordered released from custody.

Japanese Prints.

Japanese prints are wood engravings in color. The design was engraved in relief on a wood block. Prior to 1743 the impression from the key block was colored by hand, and these prints are known as the prints. The first pigment used in coloring prints was tan (red lead). Then followed, in order, beni (a red extracted from saffron), a greenish yellow, a thin lacquer (russet), and a blue extracted from Chinese cotton. After 1743 blocks were made for each color and were applied to the paper by hand. A print is therefore the work of three craftsmen—the artist, the engraver, the printer.

Wainwright To Be Assistant Sec. Of War

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 14.—J. Mathew Wainwright, a New York lawyer, is understood to have been selected as assistant secretary of war.

Mr. Wainwright formerly was a national guard officer and served through the war on the staff of Major General John F. O'Ryan, commander of the twenty-seventh (New York) national guard division, formerly Representative Crago, of Pennsylvania, who for some years was a member of the house military committee, had been prominently mentioned in connection with this office and the selection of Mr. Wainwright came as something of a surprise as his name had not been mentioned in the gossip here regarding the position.

Fragile Precious Stones.
Emeralds are mined by hydraulic flushing, because the stones are extremely friable when first exposed to the air and to stresses and shocks. Just as opals are, and the care and cure of such gems are problems.

Waterproof Shoes.
To make shoes waterproof apply two parts of beeswax and one part of mutton fat, melted together. After 24 hours wipe off with a soft cloth.

Chemistry And Christianity

Will all the physicians, druggists and chemists of Portsmouth and vicinity please rise?

Permit the churches to ask this group a question.

Did any of you men, students in a hundred universities and colleges, diligent searchers after truth, informed about the mysteries of the forces, studied under chemistry and physics, did any of you ever SEE Air, or Gravitation, or the Force which tears chemicals to pieces?

You have felt air, although we are not conscious of the terrific pressure Air has on us. We are governed by gravitation every minute, but no one ever saw the force of gravitation. Still no one in this day doubts that the Force exists.

We know that by mixing certain acids and oils we get combinations which on the tap of a hammer will rend masses of rock, or great steel buildings. We know the Force is there. Some of us have felt its effects. But no one has seen that Force.

These things being true, why should we doubt the Faith which tells men through a thousand ways that there is a God, that He care for us?

Why should not every scientific man be a firm follower of Christ?

For the things which are unseen are Eternal. Love, Conscience, Faith—all are Eternal. So is God.

Church attendance cultivates Faith, and Conscience and Love.

Come to church next Sunday—or tonight—all you doctors, druggists and chemists of Portsmouth.

THE MOVIES

THOMAS MEIGHAN and PEACHES JACKSON in a scene from the WILLIAM DE MILLE production, "THE PRINCE CHAP," A PARAMOUNT ARTCRAFT PICTURE.

You Simply Can't Afford to Miss This Big "Paramount" special picture at The Columbia Starting Today for a Three Days' Run

When five grown men—artists—start out to make as well as father a small orphan child and Christmas comes around, you would expect them to spread themselves a bit. But not even the wildest dreams of the little progress suspected what was in store for her according to the gay Christmas morning scene in "The Prince Chap," the photoplay attraction at the Columbia today. It is a William De Mille production.

The scenes are laid in the Bohemian artists' colony in Soho, London, and center around the quest for fame and fortune of one William Peyton, sculptor. How the little girl, who becomes his ward, upon the death of her mother, a model, spoils one budding romance for him and then, when she has grown into womanhood, brings about another, forms the appealing plot of the story.

Thomas Meighan has the role of the hero, and Lila Lee, Theodore Kosloff, Charles Ogle, Casson Ferguson, and Kathryn Williams are also in the cast. It is a Paramount Artcraft picture.

"Some Wild Oats," at The Temple Tonight and Tuesday. Women: Only, Tuesday Night. Men: Tonight and Tuesday Matinee.

Undoubtedly "Some Wild Oats" the motion picture sensation to be shown at the Temple tonight and Tuesday, matinee and night is one of the best feature film productions that has ever been shown in Portsmouth. It has a great many elements that cannot be found in the average feature.

The subject of "Some Wild Oats" teaches a lesson of a lifetime in two hours. It relieves the parents of embarrassment in explaining to their children this subject, which they have longed to do from infancy. It is a subject that will be taught in the schools throughout the country eventually, but the parents that have neglected to seriously consider the subject of social diseases and the origin of life with their children can now be relieved of the embarrassment by either taking or sending them to see this picture. The story of "Some Wild Oats" is of a young lad who had never been guided, but learned the miserable results of unclean living at the first moment he struck the big city. He is in love with a girl of the country and is in constant fear of the inevitable results if he carried out his promise to marry her, but another lad comes from the country to the city and is anxious to have his fling before he enters the navy. He sets out in doing so, but what happens to him is a surprise for the spectator.

We recommend that everybody see this motion picture, and it will mean more happy homes, cleaner living and longer life. The picture is being shown separately for men and for women, and we understand the reason for that is to show the true spirit and seriousness of the subject and not endeavor to appeal to the morbid and sensational seeking audiences.

Easy Method of Catching Fish.

Easy methods of catching fish have been invented by the natives of Guiana, where the pulpy fruit of a native tree is enclosed in a bag and sunk into deep water where the big fish are. The fruit juice is sought by the fish and stupefies them, so they float to the surface and are taken easily in large numbers.

which enjoyed such a triumphant success on the New York stage.

More than that, they will see Bert Lytell, that versatile and gifted young actor who has won an undisputed niche in the London. He has the dashing role of Jack Cullen, the confirmed woman hunter whose appearance in office New York after a stay in South Africa brings with it his complete surrender to beautiful Helen Steele. Only after he has made his avowal does Cullen learn that she made him propose to prove her fitness for a leading part at a millionaire's "little theatre." Infuriated by such treatment, Cullen abandons her to his haunting lodge and proceeds to a brusque wooing, which begins with the last chained, and ends in a breathless episode in which he wins against the claims of Helen's fiancé.

As an added attraction with this picture we will also show the second of the Leo Kida pictures, "The Dixie Madcaps," featuring the two little lumps, "Jane and Katherine Lee."

JACKSON, O., March 14.—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Evin, entertained the Pedro Club Tuesday evening at their home on South street, with the following members: Messrs. and Mesdames O. O. Evans, J. C. Poore, E. W. Foster, George Wheldon, and Walter Evans. At the close of the game, light refreshments were served.

In the last issue of the Standard Journal, D. W. Williams asked for some one to loan him a copy of Pinneo's Grammar, as he wanted to purchase it and would in time return it to the owner. On Thursday morning Mr. I. B. Brooks brought one in which he had owned for sixty-five years.

The club known as the N. A. G. F. met with Mrs. K. C. Summers, on Chestnut street, on Thursday afternoon. Those enjoying the occasion were Mesdames Frank Kelly, Elizabeth Kendall, Alice Mapes, Joseph Arent, Jennie Brown, Robert Davis, Clyde Kent, John Stewart, S. M. Lake, Donald Bowser and Dan McCaughey. Of Terre Haute, Ind., and Miss Genevieve Davis. Most excellent refreshments were served.

On the occasion of her sixteenth birthday, Miss Margaret Leah Peters not only celebrated her birthday with a party dance, but it was in the nature of a housewarming in the new home which her parents had recently purchased from Mrs. Isaac Long. The twenty young people enjoying the affair were Misses Wilfred Stewart, Catharine Ewing, Emeline Kuhner, Wilhelmine Sloan, Beatrice McDonald, Frances Finney, Ida Peman Armstrong, Dorothy Davis, Anna Florence Schellenger, Messrs. Ralph Peters, Frederick Jones, Ralph Howard, Frank Carvett, James Kabisch, Lee Shaffer, Theodore Michael, Leland Arthur, William Johnson and Carl Ray.

Contract Awarded
At the weekly meeting of the council on Tuesday night the contract for paving the city streets was awarded to a local man, the well known contractor, Mr. Arch Campbell. He will begin the work just as soon as the weather permits. His contract is for all the streets except Pearl which will be done by William Kuhner.

At this session the resignation of Isaac Brooks as councilman was accepted and S. C. Crossland elected to fill the vacancy.

K. of P. Meets
Thesens Lodge No. 91 Jackson, on Monday evening, March 14, will confer the Knight Rank on fifteen candidates. K. of P.'s from Wellston and Oak Hill are expected to be present as well as any Knight visiting in the city that evening. The regular weekly dance was held on Thursday evening.

Furnace Exchange Owners
Evan H. Davis has sold his furnace, known as the Hanna place, situated near Winchester, this country, to a West Virginian by the name of Hambrick, who has already moved on to the place. Mr. Evans moved from Wednesday to his recently purchased farm, the Finley Rice place near Berlin. The consideration for this farm was $3,000. It has been occupied by John Poore and family, recently.

Child Injured

Shell-Covered Forests.
Whole forests may be seen coated with shelly substance in New Holland. These incrustations are supposed to arise from decompositions of shell-fish, which, transported by the winds, are deposited in the form of dust on trees.

IF YOU HAD A NECK AS LONG AS THIS FELLOW, AND HAD SORE THROAT ALL THE WAY DOWN TONSILINE WOULD QUICKLY RELIEVE IT. ALL DRUGGISTS.

Four Jackson dentists, Drs. Roderick, Griffith, Schellenger and Shumate, were in Chillicothe on Thursday attending a district meeting of the Kentucky Society, and report a fine time.

Mrs. Harry Laster, of Wellston, spent part of the week in Jackson on account of the illness and death of Mrs. William Phillips.

The Chamber of Commerce held their weekly meeting on Friday evening which took the form of a smoker.

Death of Prominent Woman
On Friday morning at 7:30, Mrs. William Phillips passed away at her home on Pearl street. Her death was a shock to the community, though she had been poorly for several months. She took verses on Tuesday and had been critically ill ever since. Her son, Oakley, had been caring for her for the past two weeks, and a daughter, Mrs. Ida Webb, came on Tuesday evening. They with her niece, Mrs. Harry Laster, of Wellston, were with her when she died. The younger daughter, Mrs. George Welch, of Long Beach, Cal., will not be able to reach Jackson until Sunday. Until she arrives the arrangements for the funeral services will not be made, but will probably be held on Monday at the home. Her husband, Dr. Phillips, died several years ago.

The weekly meeting of the Auction Bridge Club was held with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Forsythe, on Broad street, Wednesday evening. After an elegant six o'clock dinner, the evening was enjoyed by the following members: Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Sloan, Homer Davis, Eber Stephenson, W. C. Claar, Walter Tidmore and these guests: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bragg, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dentler, Jr., Will Martin and Miss Florence Wilson.

Mrs. Dale Jackson, Mrs. J. O. Jeffries, Misses Rena Eismaude and Carrie Duncan were the hostesses of the Young Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, which met on Tuesday evening. An enjoyable program was had, the music being by Mrs. Nora Griffith and Will Peters and Miss Minnie Farrar. Refreshments of ice cream and cake closed a pleasant evening.

PETEY

A MOUTHFUL

BY C. A. VOIGHT

THIS IS NIGHT OF ALL-STAR BOXING SHOW

This is the night of the all-star boxing show in the Auditorium, and when the show sounds for the first prelude at 8:30 it no doubt will be packed with fight fans.

Johnny Andrews of Toledo and Don Baxter of Lima will be the principals in the main go of ten rounds. They are whirlwind bantams and will weigh around the 115 mark. Andrews fought here four weeks ago and is a big favorite here. He is sure to get the glad hand tonight.

Baxter has fought many real bantamweights and is in fine shape and will give Andrews a real argument.

The semi-final will bring Hi Fortner of this city and Joe Brennan together again. Two weeks ago their slashing battle was a draw and each fighter will go out tonight to get the referee's decision. This battle should be a hummer.

In the six round battle Billy Alles of this city will meet Webb Colley of Wheelburg, W. Va. They are evenly matched and should put up a ripping battle. Each boy has trained faithfully and there will be no stalling in this bout.

In the four round prelude George Alexander will mix it up with Jack Major.

This is the best fight card ever offered to fans in Portsmouth or the entire Ohio Valley, and the Portsmouth Athletic Club has completed arrangements to take care of 1,500 fans tonight.

Game Is Forfeited

When the Olway high school girls and the Excelsior factory girls' basketball teams clashed in Moose hall Saturday night two evenly matched teams were at battle. In the second half the score was 5 to 4 in favor of Olway when trouble arose over the close guarding of an Olway player. To put a stop to the trouble referee Burris forfeited the game to Olway by a score of 2 to 0.

To Play Scouts

Tonight, in Wilhelmite hall, the Bigelow Specials will endeavor to annex their thirteenth victory of the season. Their opponents will be a Boy Scout five from Sciotoville.

DOUBLE HEADER

A double header basketball contest will be staged in the First Evangelical gym tonight. The Intermediates will clash with the Henry Massie school five and the First Evangelicals will play a team representing Central Presbyterian Sunday School.

Must Clear Themselves To Rejoin The White Sox

CHICAGO, March 14.—A postponement of at least thirty days was expected in the opening of the trial of the Chicago White Sox baseball players and others indicted for the alleged throwing of the 1919 world series when the case comes up before Judge William L. Dever, of the county court, today.

Six of the indicted players were on trial, and Eddie Cicotte was reported enroute here early today, while Chick

Gardner, the other indicted player, and the four charged with arranging the alleged conspiracy have not been heard from.

All the indicted players have been placed on the ineligible list of both Judge Landis and Owner Charles A. Comiskey, of the Sox.

"There is absolutely no chance for any of them to play on my team again unless they can clear themselves to my satisfaction of the charges made against them," Comiskey said. "Plans to have the case taken off the court call, which would delay its reappearance at least six months, were announced by counsel for the 'State,' but defense attorneys said this would be contested. A postponement of thirty days is sought by the defense to allow former Judge Barrett, American league attorney, to study the grand jury evidence and charges.

Huntington Athletic Five Beaten

In the Sciotoville gym Saturday night the Sciotoville high school five, representing the Junior class of the school, won from the Huntington Athletic club quintet by a score of 26 to 21, the game being one of the hardest fought contests of the season on the Sciotoville court. The game was given under the auspices of the Junior class and the team was composed of players from the Junior class. The class cleared a neat sum on the game which was witnessed by a big crowd of local fans.

Ruth Lams Out Three Homers

NEW YORK, March 14.—During the game at Shreveport yesterday in which the New York Americans defeated the Shreveport, Texas, league team 21 to 3, "Babe" Ruth got three home runs and three singles in six trips to the bat. He stole two bases and performed brilliantly at first. A recruit, Al Wingo, who patrolled left field, followed Ruth in the batting order and gathered two singles and a double in five times at bat.

Selby's Bowling League

Saturday night in the Selby Bowling League the Turners won two out of three games from the fast traveling Packers who are giving the Turners a run for the championship of the league. The Turners took the first game by nine pins and thought they would annex the other two just as easily but the turn turned unexpectedly and the Turners won the next two.

The Electricians and Butchers also rolled three Saturdays, the Butchers winning the first two and the Electricians third by 17 pins. The Butchers had big margins in the two games they took from their opponents. The scores:
